Prospective employees may apply for a grant or renewal of a work permit. The period granted may not exceed that of the spouse’s work permit or any renewal thereof or his employment as aforesaid.

• English language requirements

Prior to arrival in the Islands, a prospective employee whose first language is not English is required to take the overseas English language testing (ELT). This testing requirement is envisioned to be more accommodating and convenient as it will enable persons to make appointments and sit tests in his/her own country prior to travelling to the Cayman Islands.

Arrangements should be made to be tested by one of the two recognized overseas English Testing Centres. These are the International English Language Test (IELTS) and Test of English for International Communication (TOEIC), each of which has test centres operating in multiple countries.

To be successful in this phase of their work permit application a prospective worker must score within the following ranges:

• International English Language Testing System (IELTS): Band Score Level 6 - https://www.ielts.org

Prospective employees should arrange to attend a relevant centre in their respective countries. In the event that there is no centre in their country, arrangements may be made at the nearest centre. In this situation only, applicants may travel to the Cayman Islands for testing.

Testing will include competencies in Listening, Reading, Writing and Speaking. Overall scores will include a combination of the four competencies.
If the prospective employee is already in the Cayman they may be required to come to the Department of Immigration Headquarters to take an English test upon approval in principle of the work permit. If found not to possess a sufficient knowledge of the English language, they may have their permission to remain or work permit revoked.

- English Language Translations
  All supporting documents that are not in English must be accompanied by an official translation that has been done by a translator who has been approved by the Department of Immigration. Please note that the original foreign language document and the original translation must be submitted with the application.
